

CREATING YOUR BUSINESS ADVANTAGE

Provision and Installation

ADP is a respected IT solutions provider known for excellence of service. We understand the importance of appropriate hardware acquisition and implementation, better than most. Our experience and expertise allows us to provide bespoke and cost-effective solutions designed to fit our customers' exact requirements.

ADP continually assess which hardware, peripherals and network solutions represent the most powerful and cost-effective solution for our customers. Our team of over 20 dedicated personnel, monitor the latest advances in technology and maintain relationships with all of the major manufacturers. Few companies are this dedicated to providing their customers with beneficial and smart solutions, whilst engaging with emerging technologies.

ADP will advise as to the most suitable equipment specification on the basis of immediate customer requirement and will also carefully consider the long-term implications of hardware choices. This facilitates the best and most appropriate use of hardware and reduces long-term overall costs.

“Few companies are this dedicated to providing their customers with beneficial and smart solutions, ADP prides itself on doing so.”

Product supply and fulfilment

ADP provides a wide range of carefully sourced hardware and peripherals at competitive prices. These include high-end servers, multimedia desktop PCs, notebooks, personal digital assistants, advanced cabling, network routers, switches and IP Telephony handsets.

Integration and implementation

We deliver a full range of customer-specific solutions at agreed service levels, including ; re-imaging, application installation and configuration, end user training and general consultancy services. Our consultants are highly experienced industry professionals whose foremost concern is always for the satisfaction of our customers.

Inventory Management

ADP offer a complete range of services to manage and keep track of company equipment. These services extend from audits and asset tagging to the logistics required for office moves and equipment relocation. We can also design and implement policies to make sure that your assets are efficiently managed.

Field based Installation

ADP's experienced field-based installation teams will make sure that all work is done quickly and professionally to the agreed specification. ADP has a number of strategically located supply depots throughout the country, ensuring that equipment is always readily available.

Benefits

- Constant review of best products and services
- Cost-effective, future-proofed solutions
- Installations project managed to ensure successful implementation
- Highly skilled installation engineers